The administration also reflects this premise and strives to instill it in all their students. Emphasis is placed on the finding and developing of self, and the fostering of love for one's self and

GUIDANCE

The Guidance Department, located in the South Building, is probably the most frequented and appreciated part of Cardinal Newman High School. The main objectives of this department are: first, helping the students make wise choices in their programs of study, in their educational plans, and in their careers; second, helping students adjust psychologically so they can function smoothly during their years at Newman; thirdly, to help better know themselves, through testing, counseling, and teaching.

You didn't really think you could slip that by me, did you?

The English Department is structured to provide the student with the skills he needs to successfully communicate in a literary society. Also, through the study of the literature of his and other countries, he will become aware of the universality of all men.

Oh, I've heard that story before.

Boogie Down!!

The Mathematics Department of Cardinal Newman High School is serving a two-fold purpose. It aims to provide for the diversity of talent that makes up today's student body and prepares them for their life in temorrow's world.

Ah, hal No book today, 30 lashes!

When I'm away from her, all I can do is think about her.

When I'm away from him, all I can do is think about him.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The philosophy of the Social Studies Department is to provide an awareness of the student's cultural heritage as well as the cultural heritage of other peoples of the world. We believe that there is a close and vital relationship between the past, the present, and the future. Just as our ancestors conceived ideas and attitudes that shaped our thinking, we shall also pass our ideas that will shape future generations. To this end the Social Studies Department attempts to impart ideas, desires, and goals that will provide a strong foundation for a better future.

How do you spell relief?

I think I sat on a tack.

SCIENCE

Left to right: Mr. Ken Berg, Miss Colleen Courtney. Mr. Harry Howell, Jr., Mr. Gregg Cox, Mr. Mark Pettis, Mrs. Sharon Baker, Mrs. Patricia Chenette.

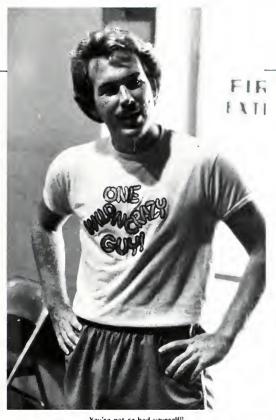

Another exciting day in the classroom?

Hit the ground!

Bringing students to an understanding of their role in the total environment is a chief goal of the Science Department. Of course, the key to this process is observation and experimentation.

You're not so bad yourself!!

Do they really expect me to read this?

LANGUAGES

Say that again!

Don't worry, sister, we all go through those phases.

Foreign language learning must of its very nature imply control of communication in its fullest connotation, oral, aural, and visual. It is our basic premise that foreign language learning has a very definite positive effect on the development of the whole man. Language study in itself as the outward expression of culture demands inclusion in a well-rounded learning experience.

Carnival in Riol

I didn't teach you that word!

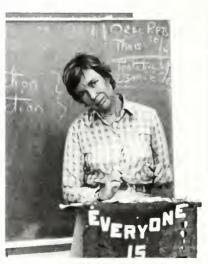

Yes, it was quite a fiesta!

The Religious Studies Department bases its philosophy on the firm conviction that all men have their origin in God and seek God as their final destiny. In an age of mancentered theology, the department strives to offer courses which will broaden the students' total involvement in humanity. It is through this interaction of man that all may fully realize Christ's words. "I have come that you may have life and have it in all its fullness."

The purpose of the business education department is first, to provide students interested in the challenges of the business world with employable skills and information; and, secondly, to make available to other students the course offerings for personal use and enrichment.

I can't believe I just walked into the girls' locker room.

The particular role of the Physical Education Department is to provide a means of guiding pupils through successive stages of their lives so they may gain strength, skill, and mental characteristics essential to a well-rounded personality.

PERFORMING ARTS

Left to right: Mr. Hal Johnstone, Mrs. Ann Hoyt, Mr. Pat Keenan.

The Performing Arts Department endeavors to provide a variety of courses within the high school curriculum which will allow a student to express his or her creativity in a number of ways: Public Speaking, Competitive Speaking, Acting, and Choral Singing. Also included in this department is Humanities, a course which offers a comprehensive study of the fine arts, including Music, Sculpture, Painting, Architecture, Philosophy, Drama, and Dance. Within this course students are encouraged to develop their own artistic talent through a variety of creative projects.

HOME ECONOMICS

Sister Kathleen Walli, O.P., Mrs. Beverly Eberhardt

But . . . It's alive!

Home Economics is planned to help students to recognize the importance of the family as the basic unit of society; to become an effective consumer of food, clothing, housing and the goods and services.

Next year's uniforms?

It's great to be a kid again!

ARTS

Mrs. Jane Anderson

The study of the arts is based on the philosophy that students should be able to integrate the arts into their everyday lives. The studies enable each student as a unique person to make an individual response to and a critical evaluation of various art forms. The challenge of creativity assists the student in the development of his own abilities so that he may be more fervently committed to the preservation and performance of the arts.

SCORECARD

The following is a pictural essay symbolizing the effort and spirit of athletic competition at Cardinal Newman. The individual athlete gives all, for the good of the team and for the good of personal satisfaction. In combination, the spirit and the athlete have formed the context of the preceding pages in our look at Sports Illustrated at Cardinal Newman. We would like to dedicate this page to the '78-'79 J.V. Football team.

OUTSIDE

SPORTS

A brief look at some of the outstanding people at Newman, and their "outside" sports activities.

Above: Marie Egan, a superb, nationally recognized gymnast. Winner of 6th and 5th places respectively in the 1978 and 1979 Junior Olympics. Prior to 1977, Marie was twice awarded the state championship. As of the first three months of 1980, she has placed 2nd in the Peachtree Open in Altanta and 1st in local competition.

Above: Cardinal Newman is the educational home for outstanding skateboard artists such as Steve Marinak. Among others are Mark Neary and Scott McCrannals. Scott is a professional competitor and a master of the sport of skateboarding.

THE SEVENTIES IN REVIEW
A SPECIAL LOOK AT
THE FACES, PLACES, UPS, DOWNS, HIGHS, AND LOWS OF
THE AGE OF SELF - INFATUATION

FAD5

Many fads passed through the 70's. Some were collected such as beer cans, warm fuzzies, pet rocks, and pencils. Others were driven such as Camaros, Trans-Ams, and Firebirds. There were even those that had to be walked, such as the invisible dog.

During the 70's Americans ate fast, faddish, and "natural".

McDonald's told Americans they deserved a break, and they took it. They looked to science for new and faster methods of cooking, such as microwave ovens and food processors. "It was a decade divided between hopes for good health and quests for convenience."

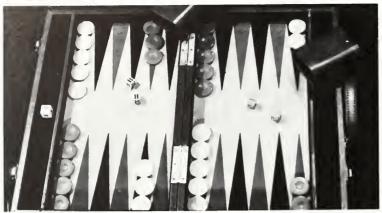

"Two all beef patties, special sauce, lettuce, cheese, pickles, onions on a sesame seed bun!"

What ever happened to Howard Hughes' will? 185

What ever happened to gas under $1.00 a gallon?

The fad of wearing go-go boots is long gone, but the fad of Docksides or Top Siders still remains, at least at Newman.

All tied up and no place to go!

What ever happened to Spiro Agnew?

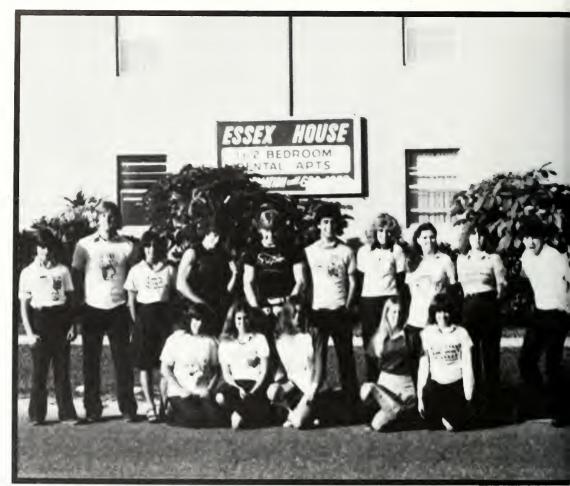

To keep up with the times people were expected to wear faddish styles of clothes and accessories. Puca beads that were once never removed, are now discarded in a hope chest. American designers attempted to assert themselves. Their greatest contribution to the 70's was designer labels on everything from jeans to underwear. But the ultimate faddish symbol of the decade was definitely the jogger, wearing his jogging suit.

The biggest trend in the movies over the past ten years has been escape; escape from burning buildings or burning zeppelins, escape from sinking ships or sinking 747's, escape from a giant great white shark, a big black plastic space villan with asthma, a nuclear accident, the Vietnamese, the Mafia, the devil, the Klingons, and in the case of "Superman," the earth's gravity. And if the actors weren't escaping, the audience was; if not to an eerie castle in Transylvania or Denton, to a big con in the 30's, a big war in the 40's, a high school in the 50's, Central Park in the 60's, or a disco in the 70's.

The movies are great medicine, thank you Thomas Edison, for giving us the best years of our lives.

MUSIC

GRAHAM PARKER

Invariably as the decade of 1970 draws to a close, writers attempt to label the past ten years under one all - descriptive idea. This past decade has been called everything from the decade of dullness to a decade of decadance which only shows that this decade was one of diversity. The 70's were born out of a tulmultous time in the late sixties. The music of the sixties reached its peak to 1969 at Weodteck By 1971 many of the pusical late sixties. The music of the sixties reached its peak by 1969 at Woodstock. By 1971 many of the musical leaders of the sixties had either been dismantled, disappeared or had died. This left a great many people without a musical style to follow or a hero to believe in. All of this brought on the many fusions or experimental cross breeding of musical styles. These combinations showed themselves in the trends and fads that dominated the music business for the entire decade. These fads were generally labeled by the classifications they fell under such as Classical -Rock, Country - Blues, and many, many others. However none of these trends really took hold on the music market until the late seventies when the disco or dance music got a serious hold on the major market which it held almost to the end of the

NICK LOWE

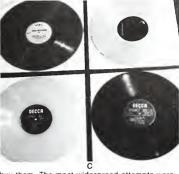

There was only one trend born late in the seventies to gain a firm social acceptance and become financially worthwhile. This trend is composed of elements of the punk rock fad, the dancability of disco and with a heavy dependence on sixties rock. Apparently we had come full circle in this return to the style of the sixties. However, even though this new fad or new wave of music has its ties with the sixties it is lyrically more satirical, pessimistic and angry than any of its elements. This "trend" is the only one which holds some hope for the eighties.

This trend of new wave has added more worthwhile, controversial, and strange and accomplished individuals than any other fad. A look at those on the crest of the wave reveals the Talking Heads, the embodiment of the new wave group, the Knack whose Beatleish presentation of themselves caused quite a stir, also there is Deborah Harry, Blondie's lead vocalist and new waves' cover girl. Leading the strange faction are the B52's followed by the rebellious Ramones, and Graham Parker who grabbed the critics album of the year in 1979. Then there is those like Nick Lowe who is enjoying a triple career as a solo act, a member of the group Rockpile, and as a producer.

As the decade progressed and the music field diversified and inflation rose a major problem arose for the music business. People weren't buying as many records or going to as many concerts. There were many solutions tried for this problems' solution. Record companies used new and existing technology to produce "oimmick" albums hooing more people would buy them. The most widespread attempts were the colored vinyl discs in most any hue, picture discs with some design or picture printed in the album, other tricks included adding an additional seven inch disc in with the album (these extra discs were called EP's meaning extended play) or having one song on a twelve inch 45 rpm disc or having the album on two ten inch discs. The peak of this trend was reached when a heart shaped disc was made in red vinyl.

Over all though the generation of the seventies did not forget their old favorties even though their roots were in the sixties. Led Zeppelin typifies this type of group who though basically a sixties child managed to set many records as well as standards throughout the seventies. Other such persons would be the likes of the Rolling Stones, the Who or Paul McCartney who all in their own ways set standards that may not ever again be met and reached heights that they brought a whole decade up to possible never to be reached again.

Was the seventies a decade of dullness or decadance? Maybe in some individuals minds but not in the annals of music history

JIMMY BUFFETT - A man who rose above the low concert attendance and low record sales problems with a sold out tour and a multi - platinum album.

The seventies had its losses in the music world. The well known ones are just that, well known. Elvis Presley, Bing Crosby, Jimi Hendrix, Janis Joplin, Keith Moon, the list goes on . . . However there were some artists who lost their lives who made great contributions but are hardly missed. So in recognition of them we dedicate this page to them. First there's Terry Kath who with his group Chicago brought jazz to the front, and there's Jim Croce one of the greatest singer - songwriters there ever was who proved that the common man can make it in that business, and also Lester Flatt who together with Earl Scruggs made blue grass what it is, and last, but far from least is Ronnie VanZant who was the embodiment of Southern Rock as lead singer of Lynyrd Skynrd who died with Steve Gaines in a plane crash. All tragic losses.

DISNEY WORLD

On the 25th of October in 1971, Walt Disney World, the largest recreation enterprise ever undertaken by a single company, opened its doors to the public. The concept of giving people what they want was often held up to be ridiculed and a multi-million dollar playground designed to satisfy the existing imaginative appetites of tens of millions of men, women, and children, was unheard of. Regardless, Disney World is a success and a living growing magic place where there is no unhappiness. Looking over Disney World in all its splendor, one must remember, "... it was all started by a mouse." - Walt Disney

Get Acquainted Dance

Rock n' Roll!!!

The first dance of the school year was a true effort of the Student Council to get the students acquainted with one another. The Sheffield Brothers Band rock n' rolled the cafeteria with hits by Poco, The Little River Band, and Bob Seger. While most of the students took to the dance floor, the teachers remained in the background to indulge in the "funky chicken." All those who attended had an enjoyable evening.

One of the highlights of the evening was the dance contest in which senior Pete Gonzalez and Carleton Bryant overwhelmed the judges and won first place.

The mass was celebrated by Father Lemoncelli, Father Vasek, and Father Curley.

-Ring Day Mass-

Seniors "Saw The Light"

This year's Ring Day Mass, the mass at which the seniors have their class rings blessed, was a moving experience for all those involved. Breaking from the traditional theme of "Unity" or "Friendship," the class of 1980 chose the theme of "Light" for their special mass. Concelebrated by Father Vasek, Father Lemoncelli, and Father Curley, the mass enlightened us all in different ways such as the lighting of candles by all the seniors which symbolized the passing on of God's light to one another.

An extra dimension was added to the mass by the singers and musicians. The theme, "Light", was enhanced through songs such as, "Here Comes The Sun" and the rousing spiritual, "I Saw The Light."

Musicians

The musicians, directed by keyoard player Bob Tarabella, also icluded guitarists Hank Beckmeyer, fariann Flemming, Peggy Krolczyk, ill Ordonez, and Rick Paguaga. Phil audette played harmonica and drums, fary Park played flute, and the bass as played by Mr. Mike Wisniewski.

Home On The Range

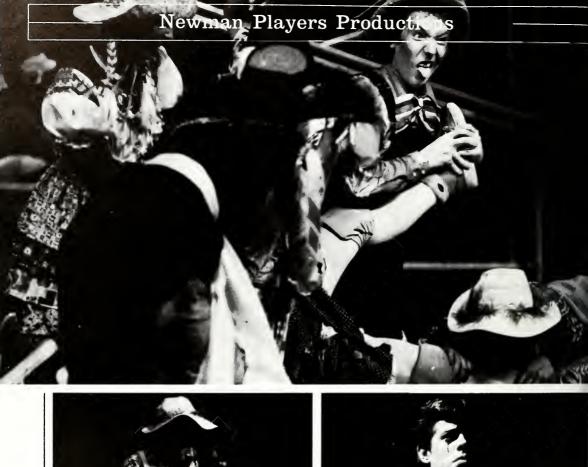

This year initiations were required by two school clubs, the Kiwanettes and the Exchange Club. For three days students wishing to enter into the Kiwanettes dressed up as clowns and bunnies. Those desiring to be in the Exchange Club came in Indian costumes or cowboy outfits. These poor individuals had to perform dubious activities to acquire the signatures of the members.

The Star Spangled Girl

For the first time in the Newman Player's history, a one act play was entered in the Palm Beach Junior College Annual Drama Festival. For their debut, the Players chose a cutting from Neil Simon's THE STAR SPANGLED GIRL. The play involves the crazy antics of Norman and Andy, two young journalists who are scrambling to meet deadlines, scrimping in order to pay bills, and starving in order to buy typewriter ribbons. Needless to say, a girl with strong shampoo and a strong southern accent moves in next door and Norman falls in love.

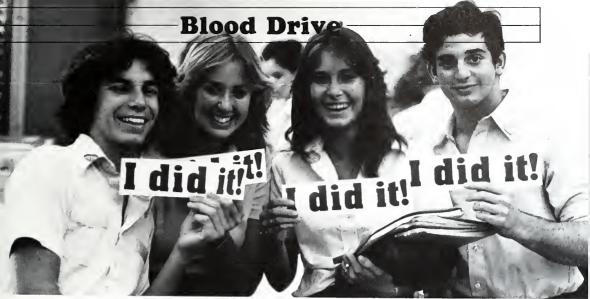

The cutting was presented February 7th in competition against eight other area high schools. It was one of four plays chosen to be presented that weekend and the production received a trophy for Best Play of the Festival Tree O'Halloran directed Robbie Boyd as Andy, Danny Finch as Norman, and Anita Szuba as Sophie, the Arkansas frangipani next door, in her first and very successful attempt at directing. Both Robbie and Danny received Best Actor awards in this very funny presentation that would not have been a success if all the people involved had not made use of the perfect orals that they were born with.

This year, the blood drive was a tremendous success. Twice every year the Palm Beach Blood Bank sends its Bloodmobile full of a highly trained staff of personnel to scenic CNHS to accept donations for the blood bank. This fall, more than fifty juniors and seniors and teachers volunteered to donate a pint of their precious blood to this worthy cause. Once a person donates blood, he is insured for life in case he needs or any member of his family needs blood. Cardinal Newman consistantly has more donors than any other area school: once again, we can proudly say, "We did it! Again!"

Christmas

When Mrs. Claus is away . . .

Ho, Ho, Ho!!!

This year as always, December brought with it, Christmas. And as always, there were many and numerous holiday activities happening around town and here at Cardinal Newman. The Choral Concert presented by Mrs. Hoyt's Choral Classes and the Foreign Language Department was a great success. As in the past the Exchange Club went to Gaines Park to entertain the children and provide some of their own Christmas cheer. The highlights of this Christmas season at Newman, however, were the decorations that many teachers adorned their rooms with, including Mrs. Gehrig's Giant (12 Inches!) Douglas Fir Christmas Tree.

Midnite Madness

A favorite winter activity in this area is the annual South Florida Fair held at the Palm Beach Fairgrounds. This year, the midway featured over sixty rides and attractions for us to spend our hard earned money on. Favorites included the "Super Loops". The "Enterprise", and the double ferris wheel. For those of us who couldn't quite swallow the $1.20 price of the tickets for these attractions, there was "Midnite Madness'', specially priced deal which allowed unlimited use of the fair's attractions from 12:00 a.m. to 5:00 a.m. for only seven dollars.

And the list goes on. This past year's concert line-up was enough to satisfy even the most avid concert go-er's appetite. Starting in October, the first major concert to hit Newman territory was Jimmy Buffett's show (which is pictured on this page). On New Year's Eve many Newman students attended the annual "New Year's Eve Champagne Jam" which starred none other but the incomparable southern rock superstars, the Atlanta Rhythm Section. Newman students took to the road in January and traveled to either Tampa or Gainesville to catch the Eagles' Florida tour. (Needless to say no one minded the 'long run' involved in getting to the Eagles concert.) But the definitive concert is yet to come. We at the yearbook staff are planning for a one - time - only concert to be held here at scenic CNHS starring the Beatles. We go on record as offering John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison, and Ringo Starr each ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS to get back together to play the acoustically perfect Frank Friedman Student Center (the gym). Listen to the announcements for more details.

Athletes honored

The winter sports banquet, held on Jan. 16, honored those athletes who participated in varsity football, varsity volleyball and varsity cross country. Many outstanding athletes were recognized for their achievements in their respective sports. Along with the trophies awarded, a sumptuous feast was served to all the athletes and their guests.

Car Rally

"Gentlemen, Start Your Engines . . . "

The Key Club's third annual car rally was an outstanding success this year. Taking first place in this prestigious event were driver, Mario Andretti and navigator, Howard Cosell. Coming in a close second were Bob Jeffcott and Mike Simon. The fastest time of the day was turned in by Mitch Gratton and Danny Finch who finished thirty-three minutes ahead of schedule.

The awards ceremony was highlighted by the arrival of Jim Guthrie and John Stebor, who finished one hour and fifteen minutes late.

Senior/Faculty Volleyball Game

Spike!!!

The Senior/Faculty volleyball game is an annual event during Homecoming Week. In the first game, the Senior boys, aided by Terry (Gunda) Shoeman, Monstrous Moyle, and Slimy Sedlak, were defeated by the teachers, including Squiggy Luikart, Big Burly Bornhorst, and King Arthur Steffes. The second game, the Senior girls, with the help of Killer Kilday and Wacky Weiland destroyed the lady teachers, including Wrong Wright and Jumping Johnson. All in all, the games were fun and memorable and added to the spirit of Homecoming Week.

Slave Day

What a fox!!!

"Yes Mas'a Sir!"

This year, as in the past, Seniors sold themselves in slavery for the good of the class. Along with the seniors a few teachers donated their bodies to the cause. All day long cries could be heard as the masters took charge, (you would, too, if YOU had to wear those strange outfits). A big thankyou is extended to all those who participated, if they're still alive.

"SPLASH!"

Thanks to the help of all those involved, this year's carnival was a great success. All day the splash of the Key Club's "Dunk-the-Clown" could be heard. At three tries for a dollar, Mr. Schram, Miss Courtney, Fr. Vasek, and many other teachers had a very wet day. Other booths were the ring toss, lollipop tree, jail, dime toss and football throw. The pizza, hot dogs and caramel apples sold by the Senior Class was a noticeable improvement over the cafeteria food. If the girls were lucky they had their slaves to stand in all the long lines for the food. But no matter how long the lines, it was worth the wait. After such a success as the seniors had this year, luck can only be wished for the Juniors to do better.

On November 6, 1979 the Cardinal Newman students were entertained by the Palm Beach Junior College Pacesetters. The talented performers presented modern day classics such as "We can build a beautiful city."
"Everything," and "Sometimes when we touch." The enthusiasm in the Pacesetters extended to the spirit of homecoming.

There were also some familiar faces returned to Newman. B. A. Marron, Ronnie Johnson, and Diane Doumar, were among the

The homecoming week shoot-out came into full swing on "Wild West Day." Seniors fulfilled the theme by dressing up as Indians, can-can girls, cowboys, and cowgirls.

Not only did the seniors dress-up, but they also provided entertainment for students during lunch periods. They hooted and hollared while staging robberies, kidnappings, and quick draws. The enthusiastic class of 1980 did an excellent job of displaying the "Wild West."

Homecoming Game

TOUCHDOWN!!!

November 10, 1979, homecoming festivities were brought to a climax with the Crusaders' crushing victory over the North Shore Mustangs. The Crusaders were led by an overwhelming defense which swarmed the Mustangs and intercepted three North Shore passes and ran a fumble 39 yards for a touchdown. The offense was a cloud of dust, rushing for 228 yards. Led by Dennis May, Ed Jarmakowicz, and Alonzo Jefferson, who all averaged more than five yards a carry, our Crusaders went on to defeat the Mustangs 34-6.

Senior halfback Dennis May, after carrying the hall for a first down, is finally brought down on the 26 line.

"Thanks, Father Lemoncelli!"

The 1979-80 Homecoming week was overall a great success and this was due largely to the efforts of the Senior Class moderator, Father Lemoncelli. In spite of the fact that this was Father's first year as moderator, he took charge with spirit and enthusiasm and was an inspiration to the entire school. Throughout the week, Father could be seen sporting his Mickey Mouse sunglasses, playing the Crusader fight song on his kazoo, and wearing the vestments of the wild west era. All day Friday, Father helped build the senior float. Despite his sunburn, his efforts paid off when the seniors won the float competition! Come Saturday night, Father Lemoncelli was still going strong. He was responsible for setting up, chaperoning, and cleaning up after the dance. After all the work was over we are sure that the gift the Seniors presented Father with put him in good spirits. And on the last day, he rested. (No allusion to Genesis intended!) Due largely to Father Lemoncelli's efforts, this year's Homecoming will undoubtedly be remembered as one of Newman's greatest. So for all your support and guidance, we just want to say

Father Henry Lemoncelli, OMI

"Happy feet."

One of the highlights of this year's Homecoming festivities was the ever popular, always exciting, Homecoming Dance. The Seniors brought back the popular Sheffield Brothers Band who played everyone's favorite hits, including "Ring My Bell", "I Will Survive", and "You Light Up My Life". The students broke into thunderous applause when the band played a song that is near and dear to the hearts of all Cardinal Newman students, Barry Manilow's "Daybreak."
